President's Message: Last Week

we had some fun with our own. First, we nailed Sandi Mitchell and Larry Blodgett for "outrageous advertising". Sandi for promoting a new partnership within her real estate business and also for over-enjoying her annual birthday. And, Larry for dominating the Saturday edition of the Carey Brothers home improvement radio program. Congratulations and thanks to both. Our special guest speakers were Judy Francis and Dan Baker. Judy, always the jokester, told us a nice, clean story about a can of “spray-on”. Judy parlayed a “fine arts” degree into a successful insurance career with State Farm. Go figure. She thought she was going to be an artist. Dan Baker spoke primarily about his experiences in WW II. And, how appropriate a subject considering our current conflict with Iraq. I was struck at the “precision” bombing then as opposed to now. Then, fighter pilot Dan sighted his target from two miles up and dove straight down at target before releasing his weapon, similar to throwing a boulder out a window. Now, we fire from 200 miles away and can target a room within a building.

Kudos: Chris Lane for engineering our annual Egg Hunt. Tom Courtright, Bill Eames, and Sandi Mitchell for following through with the dictionary project. Charlie Vitale and team for pulling our joint club golf tournament together. And, Bud Moulthrop for coordinating our attendance at the district conference in Fairfield.

The club has reserved a “jr suite” at the Fairfield Hilton, for use by our members attending the district conference. Stop in and refresh, rest, have a cocktail, or coke, and stay overnight if you desire. Conference registration is Friday morning and the conference ends Sunday at noon.

Reminders: Our meeting next week will be Monday @ Contra Costa Country Club. And, the following week we will be back at Aladdini's Restaurant.
