PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE: LAST WEEK

we were honored to have a talk by the new Executive Director of Lafayette Chamber of Commerce, our own Jay Lifson. Jay seems about as happy as a fella with a new job. Truly it does seem a good fit for as much of a people person as Jay is. And-- he gets to see his family sometimes also. Jay, we all wish you and the Chamber continued success.

Your projects sound interesting and fun, and they should be good for both the business community as well as the community at large. On Saturday your president and President-Elect Tim McKinley attended a District Seminar on Foundation and membership out at Heald Center in Concord. One of the subjects you should have heard of by now, if you have been reading your Rotarian, is the Paul Harris Society. We are being encouraged to pledge to raise our Annual Giving to the Foundation to $1,000 per year, which will qualify a Rotarian for membership in the society. The District 5160 kickoff is to be a gala event on Veteran's Day, November 11, 2005. It will be one of the first major events in the new Veterans Building in Lafayette. Last week we were unable to produce a Bulletin, so I would like this week to welcome our latest new members Don Anderson and John Sherry. I hope you enjoy Rotary, participate, attend and have as much fun in Rotary as I have had over the past 13 years. Our speaker this week will be Dave Simpson from Lafayette Bookstore. In an age of monster corporations and internet marketing of books, Lafayette Bookstore shows us the value and pleasure that can be provided to the community by a smaller local business. Should be great. Next week we are having another "Expose Yourself" meeting, where a member can speak on any subject he wishes. Jess Wellen has something up his sleeve, that I believe none of us have heard about before. Come one and all. Ed Searby
